Fall 2026

Professor Joel Mokyr, winner of the 2025 Nobel Prize in Economics, is seeking an RA to assist on his current book project with fellow Nobel laureate Philippe Aghion. The book is about technological change, past and present. The RA should have knowledge of economics, deep interest in history, science, and technology, and strong language and editorial skills, and would ideally be able to commit to 20 hours per week.

- Please email materials to the Global Poverty Research Lab office at poverty-research@northwestern.edu with subject heading "Joel Mokyr GPRL Undergrad RA Application."