

Research Assistant for Professor Diego Känzig

Title:

Research Assistant

Openings:

One

Project Description:

Professor Diego Känzig from the Department of Economics is seeking an undergraduate research assistant for a project in empirical macroeconomics. The project focuses on examining the causal effects of changes in fiscal space on the macroeconomy.

Position Description:

The project is currently in the data collection phase. The research assistant will assist with collecting data from Bloomberg Terminal, Factiva, and other sources. The role requires attention to detail and a strong ability to record and organize information accurately. Prior experience with coding in Stata is preferred but not required.

Application Requirements:

Interested applicants should email dkaenzig@northwestern.edu and ramya.raghavan@u.northwestern.edu with the following:

- Copy of (unofficial) transcript
- Resume
- Brief paragraph describing their interest in the position